Jersey City News

An Englishman Stabled on the Jersey City Ferry Boat,— On Sunday afternoon an Englishman, whose name is Young City, became quite conspicuous by expressing in a public manner his opinion of the Mason and Slidell affair, and re manner his opinion of the Mason and Slidell affair, and remarking that the Yankees would have had to smellal little of John Ball's gunpowder if they had not come up to the scratch and given them up. Another person, whose name we could not learn, became quite crazed ever Young's remarks, and for a while the two had a pretty warm controversy over the matter. Finally the boat landed, and just as Young was going off the boat some unknown person stabbed him. Though done with a penknife, the wound was found to be quite serious, and he was conveyed to a vessel near by, and attended by Dr Varick. It was very remarkable that no person saw who the party was that committed the act, not even Young himself. The injury will not, it is said, prove fatal.
